Tradeasia is a fast-growing global supply chain and distribution company of raw materials. We established our heritage from one of the world's well-known business hub, Singapore, which then became our global headquarter more than 20 years experience. We started our expansion to other countries, and now, for just about 20 years, we have covered many parts of Asia. We now operate a global network of 13 countries as our trading hubs. Our aggressiveness and calculated-risk taking have made us what we are now.
